What Are the Key Ingredients in a Secret Sauce for Leadership Development?

Brief Description

The Canadian Health Leadership Network (CHLNet), a value network of 40 organizations from across the country, believes health leadership is a key enabler of health system performance and transformation. Canadian health care is often cited as being innovation rich and spread poor. Leadership is seen to be an essential ingredient in creating an environment for change but how to do this? Join us to hear from several of CHLNet's partners where leadership development is thriving and is a key strategy for transformation. Engage in a conversation with us about the key ingredients in the secret sauce for maximum impact of leadership development so that we can begin to develop an evidence-based approach that best builds value for the system (and stop doing the things that don't work!).

Speakers: Gillian Kernaghan (CEO, St. Joseph's Health Care, London)
Graham Sher (CEO, Canadian Blood Services)
Valerie St. John (Lead, BC Health Leadership Development & Engagement Collaborative)
James McAndrew (Alberta Health Services)
Kelly Grimes (Executive Director, CHLNet)

Please RSVP Lynda Becker, CHLNet lbecker@chlnet.ca to attend this session.
